Rules for Commenting -- Kill the Robots!

Hey All,

Just wanted to let you know that since I reconfig'd the blog so that people could leave comments, the only ones who have taken advantage of that have been internet bots. Therefore, if I see any posts that are titled in gibberish or by anonymous users, I'll delete 'em. Just to let you know. If there are real humans out there who want to comment, you are still welcome to do so. Just so you really are human.

Also, I've been really busy this semester teaching a course on "Understanding Media Fandom" at my college, so I've had little time to update the Movie Night Kit. Don't worry: I should have more time later on in the year. By the way, I loved District 9. Not a perfect movie by a long shot, but the best SF I've seen in a long, long time. But do be advised: it is pretty brutal in places, and in other places, it's definitely a "guy" movie. My wife was, let's say, less enthusiastic about it. But I'd still recommend it.

Peace,

Ted
